F i l t e r

to the Daily Grind

1) A porous material through which a liquid or gas is passed in order to separate the fluid from suspended particulate matter.

2) A device containing such a material, especially one used to extract impurities

3) Any of various electric, electronic, acoustic, or optical devices used to reject signals, vibrations, or radiations of certain frequencies while allowing others to pass.

Choose your definition or remain relative, depending upon which side of your brain is active. Suggestive symbolism, wordplay, mechanics and attitude are all elements of lyricism. Experiences define an individual and expression is an art form.

You can filter, be filtered, or be the filter. What is your role ?

Whether you pride yourself in your rhetorical knowledge, enjoy documenting your heart's visions, or want to prove your mic skills, Filter is the stomping ground at your Daily Grind where voices are amplified and you are heard.

In this creative forum of lyricism, we can toy with the parameters of literature. The revolution will not be televised, but you are invited.

Poetry, spoken word, and Hip Hop will be the driving influence behind this function. You have a voice. Use it. Let's push the boundaries to give Filter yet another definition.
