Did this course achieve the stated learning outcomes?

Please address the question above and elaborate on the strengths, weaknesses, and ineffective/effective teaching strategies used in the course, along with any additional items you would like to provide feedback on.

- I enjoyed this english class and learning more about poetry and stories that I did not know when I began. The professor was a very good teacher and taught us the appropriate concepts necessary to be successful. I learned something new or interesting every class. I think the class was very well run and organized
- a little. I understand a little bit but Mrs. Kelly was a little unorganized and no one in the class knew what to do when we got assignments. I would really have her work on preparation before giving assignments. it was never clear what we had to do.
- Mrs. Martin is a great teacher. I liked that we did a lot of group work, that way we could bounce our ideas off of other students before discussing it as a class. Great job!

- My teacher was very strong in talking to the class and getting them to do fun activities but also had the same amount of lecture time. She let us watch movies and listen to poems that had to do with our studies instead of just having to read the stories which made our class pay attention more.

- the syllabus was adapted to fit our class and we went at an appropriate pace. the readings were interesting and went along with what we were learning.
- Yes, overall the course was good. Since the syllabus was changed many times I sometimes got confused when trying to keep up with readings and when assignments were due.
